

Call for visiting-professors in Political Science at the University of Campinas (Unicamp), in Brazil (due to October 25)

The aim of this call is to attract two visiting-professors in Political Science to teach and research for one or two months at the University of Campinas. With that call, the Graduate Program in Political Science (GPPS) wishes to attract outstanding professors/researchers at all career levels and develop its internationalization program funded by the Coordination for the Improvement of Higher Education Personnel (Capes).

The GPPS at Unicamp is one of the leading research centers in Brazil, among the top six in the country. The program has been awarded with Grade 6 (up to 7) in the last evaluation conducted by the Ministry of Education. The IFCH has the most important library in Social Sciences in Latin America, besides archives and other facilities.

The professor/researcher will have a private workspace provided with computer, printer and access to digital resources. An assistant will be assigned to the professor/researcher to help with institutional duties during her time at the university.

The professor/researcher will have to teach a short course (20h) at graduate level and present a seminar on her current research during the four or eight weeks. The Program also encourages the professor/researcher to interact with professors and students during her time at Unicamp.

The short course and the seminar can be in Portuguese, Spanish or English.

To apply, candidates should have an institutional affiliation located in one of the countries listed below and have finished their PhD up to March/2017.

Candidates have to send (a) a short proposal for the course (no more than one page), (b) their academic CV for the last five years and (c) a motivational letter.

The visit should start in the second half of March 2021. Applications have to be sent by October 25, 2020 (BSB time) at the following address scpgcpol@unicamp.br with the following title: Visiting-professor 2021. Applications will be evaluated by the Graduate Program Commission. Notifications about the results will be sent on October 26. For further information about the Graduate Program in Political Science, visit <https://www.ifch.unicamp.br/ifch/pos/cienciapolitica>.

For further information, please contact prof. Oswaldo Amaral (oamaral@unicamp.br).

Unicamp will provide the following benefits:

R$ 14.000,00 (US$ 2,456) for living expenses (monthly)

Up to R$ 6.555,29 (US$ 1,154) for flight tickets

R$ 2.200,00 (US$ 386) for arrival expenses
